

New Hampshire

OVERALL SCORE	44
Ranking	30

New Hampshire is amending their legislation to allow for juvenile victims of human trafficking to petition to vacate their delinquency adjudications. This addition would improve New Hampshire's score from a 44 to a 56 and their ranking from 30th to 17th place. While this provides additional protections for minor trafficking victims, there is still limited protections for adult trafficking victims in the state of New Hampshire.

Hearing Requirement

A hearing is always required in New Hampshire and survivors must appear in person at all proceedings. This can be costly and also dangerous for survivors. Ideally, hearings would not be required, but if they are, survivors should be allowed to appear through alternate methods like telephone, video, or waive their right to appear at all.

Offenses Covered

The current offenses covered in New Hampshire are inadequate because relief only applies to a narrow subset of offenses, yet the range of offenses for which survivors are arrested and prosecuted is broader.

Official Documentation

Official documentation from any state or government agency, or documentation that falls within another set of specific categories creates a presumption that the survivor is eligible for criminal record relief in New Hampshire. Official documentation should never be required for criminal record relief; however, if a survivor can provide official documentation, the presumption should prevent them from having to share their experience repeatedly in different settings which can be emotionally difficult and cause additional trauma.

Scoring System:

Guidelines: Grades and rankings are determined by comparing elements of existing criminal record relief statutes against an ideal statute, as defined by Polaris and the Survivor Reentry Project. Laws are scored out of a maximum 100 points. This project looks solely at criminal record relief statutes specifically intended for victims of human trafficking arrested or prosecuted as adults. Accordingly, states that only offer relief to survivors with arrests from when they were juveniles do not earn credit in this report. These states scored a "0." Additionally, the research team prioritized the inclusion of specific and clear language within each criminal record relief statute, rather than having to rely on, locate, or incorporate other state law sanctions. This means a state that, for example, has strong confidentiality language in another section of law, but does not mention confidentiality protections in the trafficking-specific statute will not get points for confidentiality in this analysis. States with zeros - that is, states with no law for adult trafficking survivors in place - did not receive letter grades.

Range of Relief
0	No statute specific to victims of human trafficking.
4	Statute only provides partial relief (e.g. some combination of sealing or expungement).
8	Statute provides vacatur of convictions.
10	Statute provides vacatur of convictions based on a substantive defect or on the merits.
Nexus to Trafficking
2	Survivors must prove that offenses were committed "while under duress."
4	Survivor must prove that offenses were committed "as a direct result" of the trafficking.
6	Survivor must prove that offenses were committed "while they were a victim" of trafficking.
8	Survivor must prove that offenses were "proximately caused" by the trafficking.
